Continue walking straight ahead past the cash machines, and on the right you will see the Platform 9 ¼ sign (which is located directly under the footbridge). In recent years, Warwick Davis (who played Professor Flitwick and Griphook in the Harry Potter films), decided to open up the The Harry Potter Shop at Platform 9 ¾ in King's Cross, which is located a stone's throw away from the Platform 9 ¾ sign. Due to popular request, station authorities at King's Cross Station decided to place a Platform 9 ¾ sign up in honour of J.K. Rowling's hit series, and since then Harry Potter fans from all over the world have ventured to King's Cross Station to snap a photo of the famous platform sign (which is located between platforms 9 and 10). If you're travelling alone and want your photo taken underneath the Platform 9 3/4 sign but don't want to pay for a professional photo, be very careful about who you choose to snap a photo of you, as it's not uncommon for robbers and pick-pocketers to linger around the area. If you don't feel like paying for a professional photo, you can always get a friend or someone standing nearby to snap a photo of you underneath the sign instead. If you're travelling alone, be aware that members of staff at the shop are not allowed to use your phone to snap a photo of you. 1, King's Cross St. Pancras, Kings Cross Station, Euston Rd, London N1 9AP, United Kingdom (See map). If you are travelling with a group of friends, the photographers can also arrange a group photo underneath the platform sign, if you want to get a professional photo taken underneath the Platform 9 ¾ sign, you will need to speak to someone at The Harry Potter Shop at Platform 9 ¾ who will guide you in the right direction. In order to be transported to the Hogwarts Express at Platform 9 ¾ to get to their school in the north of Scotland. Staff will then lead you to the half trolley and tell you when to hold your scarf up and jump for the photo to make it look as if you're being transported through the platform. You can reach King's Cross Station via routes 10, 17, 30, 45, 46, 59, 63, 73, 91, 205, 214, 259, 390 and 476. Keep walking past the ticket office, and then walk to the right of the Disabled Meeting Point sign. The Hogwarts students would have to run through the brick wall underneath the Platform 9 ¾, it is located in the main concourse area near Platform 9 and 10. It was also decided to install a half-trolley in the brick wall underneath the platform sign, which looks exactly like the trolley Harry Potter and the Weasley family used to transport their luggage through the train station. In order to do so, the students would need to ride a train which could only be accessed from a platform which couldn't be seen by the non-magic folk (also known as "Muggles").
